

Testimonies

I run a medium-sized fish farm in Lagos and I get quite frustrated having to sell at low profits to market women who mostly are even discourteous when dealing with you, so I registered on the site with the hope of getting buyers that will pay better prices for my fish. The first experience I had was from a lady in America who wants Smoked Fish in quantities far beyond what I can supply. The Offer is great and completely beyond my imagination!!

I don't have a single doubt this service will continue to be of the greatest help to me. I supply medium sized hotels and restaurants and I always have a hectic time looking for farmers who are immediately ready to sell and despite paying very competitive prices I never get to meet enough farmers immediately ready to sell; so, if I say this website is just what I need to make my search easy and result-yielding, I'll be making an under-statement. Thanks so very much. Truth is the money I burn on fuel monthly just looking for fish farmers ready to sell will now be saved. Thank you so very much.

I learnt about this site when I bought your catfish manual. I'm a starter farmer who ran into the wrong hands with my first stock of fingerlings (at least that's what I still attribute the poor growth of my fishes to) and so with my Registration, I had the opportunity of meeting quite a number of fingerlings producers. Unlike before when I was taken to just one guy, I now took my time and visited 4 farms where I saw different sizes of the same thing each farmer calls "fingerlings" and also saw how differently active and healthy they could be from one farm to the other. If I compare the huge loss from my first fish harvest to your Activation fee and the singular benefit of just having different fingerlings producers to choose from, all I can say is Thank You.

From what I see, as a member of your site, even without being a fish farmer one can earn a living checking out those who produce local fish feed and supply them needed raw materials and also check out those who also need table-size fishes and buy from farmers to supply such organizations. I can even supply fingerlings and juveniles to farmers who are all over the place once they get satisfied with the sample I show them! This is good news.

This is long overdue. We the Eateries will benefit most from this. I know a popular Lagos based eatery like us who have had to stop selling catfish in all but 2 of her outlets because of irregular supplies. Once we ourselves had a big party to cater for and all our catfish suppliers could not deliver. We were so much in a tight corner we had to be begging some of our suppliers who we know to be farmers to please come to our aid by all means. Now as a member of your website that kind of scary experience is gone forever. In our industry there are clients (big clients) who simply won't take "not available" for an answer .

Popular Eatery Manager ..... Lagos. We are specialists in Fingerlings and Juvenile production and we have just 3 places where we buy our brood stocks. Until we registered on your site, we have had to suffer in silence each time we buy brood stock from these places and the result of our spawning is poor. Now we have more than enough places where we can get brood stock. I wonder why this idea never occurred to anybody before now. There is simply no better way to search for specialists in this field than the internet.

Thanks. You're really living up to your name. Tunji IbadanI used to come all the way from Abuja to Lagos anytime I wish to buy fingerlings and juveniles in large quantities and then spend days moving from one farm and one agent's house to the other in search of it. The cost and stress is usually so much for me; not knowing that, all the while, (well knowing, but not knowing where to find them) that all the while, less than 10 minutes drive away from my house, there is one big farm specialized only in fingerlings and juvenile production!!!. Your website is truly effective; and for that amount!! It's not even up to what I spend on transportation when I used to come to Lagos. People like me should truly be grateful for your website Sanni Adamu Abuja
